Headline:
Mostly dry with sunny spells. Breezy.

Today:
A dull start with some patchy drizzle across Speyside and eastern Lochaber. Otherwise a dry day with sunny spells, the best of the sunshine in the afternoon. Moderate to fresh northwest winds, but strong across eastern Caithness. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Clear skies to start the evening south of the Great Glen with patchy cloud further north. Cloud increases overnight, but remaining dry. Northwest winds easing. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Wednesday:
A dry day with some bright spells for most, but low cloud increases across the Western Isles. Some patchy light drizzle possible later. Light west or northwest winds. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Rather dull with a good deal of low cloud and some light drizzle for the next few days, but some bright or sunny spells possible across inland parts.
